The name of the group came from the inspiration of the scripture John 7:37 where Jesus called out to the thirsty to come and Him and drink.

7:37's album, 'Trying To Make It Home,' is about life, the struggles, fears, pain, the hopelessness, the loneliness of it all, and, most importantly, songs to encourage and offer the hope that does not disappoint, the love of the one called Jesus.

We all struggle with something, addictions, fears, loneliness so on and so forth, but we shouldn't and we certainly don't need to ever doubt that we are loved....

Some say that you don't believe if you doubt or fear, maybe, but perhaps those things successfully overcome make us stronger in faith, perhaps our struggle is a tool that increases our belief and makes us stronger. Maybe trail causes us to ask the hard questions and to reach out for answers. And maybe we will have the answer for someone else who may be hurting.

The songs reflect some of our struggles and also, and more importantly, the victory we have in Christ. I hope you find them to be enriching and encouraging as you move onward and upward.

I can only hope you will join us in the journey of Trying To Make It Home and find ourselves together victorious and at peace at the end of our adventures.

I have been in music and ministry in various forms since 9/11.
