"I tell you what, it is a Good Day when AJ Downing releases a record. This man has a way with writing insightful and intelligent lyrics cradled in grooves and melody sways that make for an album that the Rolling Stones and Neil Young would love." Outlaw Magazine

"AJ Downing reminds me of a modern Hank or Woddy, writing and singing those soulful songs, not so much because he wants to, but because he has to....because it is his mission in life. When you hear that sincerity in his voice, you know immediately that he is the real deal." Kent Finlay, Cheatham Street Warehouse

"AJ Downing is a first class wordsmith." The San Antonio News

"There are no trite observations of the wonders of drinking beer or the wisdom of calling in sick to work so he can float the river anywhere to be found here. Downing chooses to more often tackle the serious side of life." Exystence.net

"It isn't the "Twang" or the "Lilt" in his voice that makes his songs so good, it's his sneaky way of getting to the point as he "Whomps" you upside the head with his meaningful lyrics. I've been hooked on AJ Downing since he told me "Here kid this first song is FREE". His music has a "real life" political slant that goes way past Red and Blue, it's more about "simple truth"." Chance Austin WLVR

"It's really about messages written between the lines as much as the lyrics themselves. All good songs have different meanings depending on each listeners own personal journey. So take the trip that AJ Downing takes you on and find your own way back home." Mike James WYCE
