... He released his self-titled debut album in 2007 and spent the next year bringing his music to a growing fan base at over 250 shows. In 2011, Danny returned to his favorite songwriting haven, a small acreage near Pink, Oklahoma to work on new material for his next album titled "The Great Unknown". The songs represent a new direction in Trashville's ever expanding horizons. From gypsy jazz and folk ballads, to rowdy songs that make a statement on consumerism. Once again, there's something for everybody, young and old alike.
Danny Trashville has become a seasoned songwriter/performer with a commanding stage presence. Catch him live and you're sure to
