Born and raised in Oakland, California, ZĀna gained early inspiration by playing her drum kit. Her love for instruments with vocal lessons led to a career in singing where she was featured in local Bay Area publications and festivals.

A current student at Berklee College of Music, up and coming singer-songwriter, ZĀna's collaborations have been instrumental in the move to launch her solo career. Her debut self-titled recording with Grammy Award winning producers, Tim Mitchell and George Noriega features Into My Bed, Deeper and two remixes by RedSoul.

The four minute (4:15) opener Into My Bed features the 20-year-old expressing herself with her own gypsy-pop inspired lyrics, guitar and percussion. Track 2 - Deeper is about Love, connecting in a deeper way, through the soul. (4:02)

"A gifted songwriter with a sultry voice, ZĀna's unique style, which fuses Arabic and Latin influences to create what she labels as her 'gypsy-pop' sound is both upbeat and soulful".

- Indie Giants: Music News

"Into My Bed showcases ZĀna's sensual yet pop-like voice, while keeping a soulful tune that is ignited by her dignified sound".

- Chicago Happenin'

"ZĀna brings a unique flavor to her fusion of Serbian-Croatian, Balkan and Lebanese influences to her music"

- Los Angeles Promo
